

THE LAST BEATITUDE, Rev. 22:14

The Revised Version here is preferred to the KJV.
 "They that wash their robes," not "do his commandments".

The idea that partaking of the tree of life or entering the celestial city depends on doing God's commandments has no more hope than the dreary thunders of Sinai; while the condition of robes washed white in the blood of the Lamb has the gracious ring of New Testament music.

the last of 7 Beatitudes in Rev., beginning w/1:3; one in 22:7.]
 This is almost the last word to men from heaven.

Behold, I stand at the door, and knock...

In the silent midnight watches
List — thy bosom door!
How it knocketh, knocketh, knocketh,
Knocketh evermore!
Say not, 'Tis thy pulse's beating;
'Tis thy heart of sin;
'Tis thy Savior knocketh, and crieth,
"Rise and let me in."

Death comes on with reckless footsteps
To the hall and hut,
Think you death will tarry, knocking,
When the door is shut?
Jesus waiteth, waiteth, waiteth,
But the door is fast;
Grieved, away thy Savior goeth,
Death breaketh in at last.

Then it is time to stand entreatingly
Christ to let thee in;
At the gate of heaven beating,
Waiting for thy sin.
Nay, alas! thou guilty creature,
Hast thou then forgot?
Jesus waited long to know thee,
Now He knows thee not.
