

THE CALL TO WORSHIP:

"One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after;
that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his temple."

THE PASTORAL PRAYER:

Almighty God, who hast brought us to this year, we thank Thee for all we have seen and experienced of Thy grace every day. We thank Thee for quiet hours when in solitude we have gained insight into life's meaning and Thy purpose for us; for unquiet hours when in a troubled spirit we have learned where the source of creative peace may be found; for the times when anxiety or fear or discouragement, drove us to Thee and we found renewed courage and faith and hope in thy blessing; for dear ones who trusted us, and believed in us even when we failed to meet their expectations; and for those who criticized us and whose criticism taught us to face ourselves and to take the help Thou dost provide to do better through the strength which Thou dost give.

O Lord of unchanging wisdom, goodness, love, and mercy, we bring Thee all who must serve in patient waiting in suffering or sorrow; all who face the coming months with dread--especially those whose fears are unrelieved by the knowledge of Thy providential care; all whose marriage may be in jeopardy; all who find temptation for narcotics, alcohol, gambling, and profane living too strong for their weakness; and we pray for all who are strong, that they might not be overconfident of themselves and that they may make responsible use of their powers. Come close in tenderness and sustaining power to those who have recently laid their dead away, that they may know that in Thee love can never lose its own. We remember in Thy presence all who are far from home and friends, especially those Christian missionaries who are serving Thy cause in distant, isolated; and unfriendly places. We pray for all who are serving in the armed forces of the nation, risking their lives for the cause of freedom, democracy, & justice

Keep us from trying to find in our religion an escape from life's problems, but may our faith confer upon us the strength and courage to face life ~~squarely~~ squarely and victoriously, through Jesus Christ, who taught his disciples to pray together saying:

"Our Father which art in heaven...."
